ABOUT CHRISTINE CAMERON

Christine Cameron is a personal stylist, wardrobe consultant, blogger and magazine editor in New York. Her lifestyle blog, My Style Pill, features daily outfits, designers she loves, popular posts on outfit remixes which shows how to wear an item of clothing more than one way and her love for interior design.

When it comes to fashion and lifestyle, Christine loves capturing and creating personal style from and for those around her, getting inspiration from everyday street wear. Helping someone create their own personal look and allowing them to come into their own, to feel confident in what they put on in the morning—and often all with the items they already have in their closet—is what she loves most.
